MEXICO PAPER SAYS
YANKEES HUMBUGS

By the Associated Press
MEXICO CITY, June 2.—Recommendations that a new treaty be arranged between the United States and Mexico, coupled with the advice that if Mexico refuses to enter into an agreement to protect Americans the United States should intervene in this country, which were made on May 31st, by a sub-committee of the United States senate foreign relations committee, are announced by the newspaper "Excelsior" today. "Humbug is at the bottom of Yankee character", says the journal, "and Barnum was the finished individual of the species."

HUERTA TAKES OATH
AS MEXICAN PRESIDENT

By the Associated Press
MEXICO CITY, June 2.—Adolfo De La Huerta, elected provisional president of Mexico last week took the oath of office at five o'clock this afternoon in the Chamber of Deputies. There was a great military display, the gallery of the Chamber was crowded and thousands thronged the streets. Here and there a camera could be seen as it was held aloft by its owner, like a periscope, above the sea of humanity. The new provisional president appeared to be far from well.

SIX KILLED IN MINE EXPLOSION

By the Associated Press
PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 2.—At least six men were killed by an explosion in the shaft of the Ontario Gas-Coal company near Cokesburg, Pa., today. The men were buried under tons of earth and the foreman in charge of the work said he would not be able to tell the exact number of the dead until the bodies had been recovered. The men were employed by the recently formed Ontario Gas-Coal company in sinking a shaft for coal, and had reached the top of the coal late yesterday. Soon after they went down the shaft today to resume work there was an explosion which dislodged great masses of earth and buried every man in the shaft.

REPUBLICANS ARE CLEARING FOR ACTION

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, June 2.—Claims of contesting delegations from Florida and Georgia continued today to occupy the attention of the republican national committee. Every effort was being made to speed up consideration of the cases, so that the committee might pass on the claim of ten other states, which have not yet even been heard. The prospects to clean up the slate before the convention meets next Tuesday seems to be growing. The first order of business today was a supplemental hearing for the regularly reported delegation from Florida, headed by National committeeman Bean, and the contesting delegation headed by H. L. Anderson of Jacksonville.

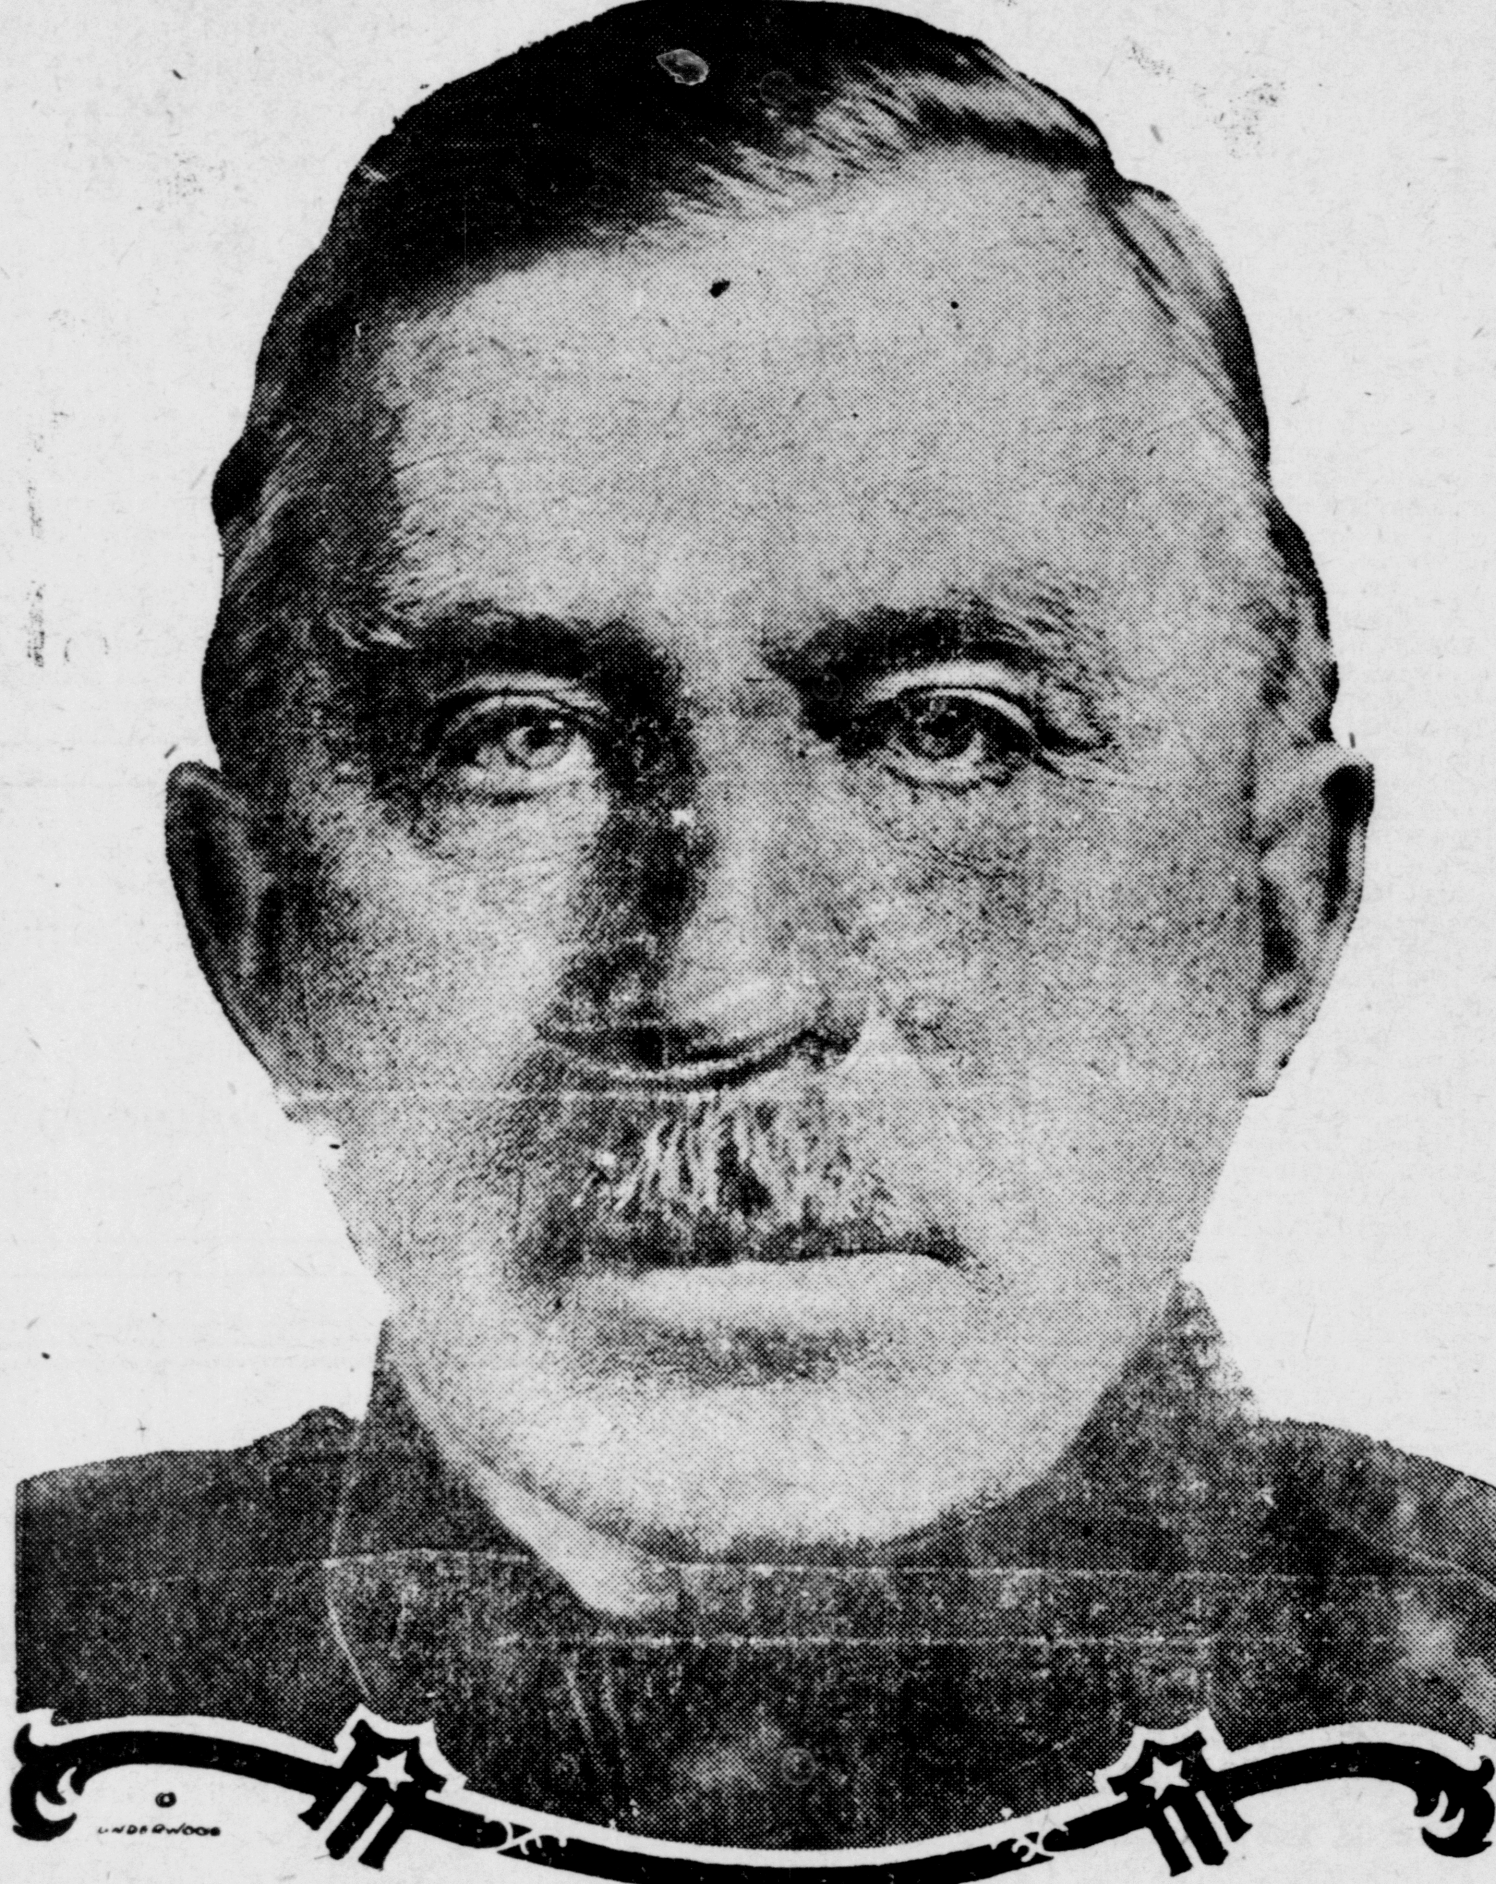

Will Ballot Friday
By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, June 2.—Nominating speeches in the republican national convention next week, probably will come on Thursday, with balloting on Friday, L. W. Henley, secretary of the arrangements committee, announced today, following the keynote speech of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, temporary chairman, and appointment of committees on Tuesday. Mr. Henley said the convention probably would adjourn until Wednesday for committee work. Permanent organization, rules and order of business are on Wednesday's tentative program. After the nominating speech Thursday, Henley said the tentative program would leave Friday and Saturday, and possibly part of Thursday for balloting and consideration of platform.

A STRONG REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITY

MAJOR GENERAL LEONARD WOOD.

Though Somewhat Under Fire for Exorbitant Campaign Expenditures, Friends of General Wood Believe Him to Be One of the Strongest Contestants for the Republican Presidential Nomination at Chicago, Next Tuesday.

Major General Leonard Wood, formerly chief of staff of the United States army, friend of the late President Roosevelt and author of "The Military obligation of Citizenship," a book on army training and preparedness written before America's entry into the world war, entered the army as a surgeon in 1886. The beginning of the world war found him in command of the Eastern department of the army, with headquarters at Governor's Island, New York. For the four years previously he had been chief of staff. Long before the United States entered the struggle, in 1917, General Wood and Colonel Roosevelt had made many speeches in advocacy of universal training and preparedness. Thousands of young men, as a result of their efforts and of others, attended officers' training camps at Plattsburg, N. Y., and in various other places throughout the country to prepare for the nation's plunge into the war. When the United States became a participant in the great conflict, General Wood made application for service overseas and many of his friends expected that he would be sent to the front in France. Events, however shaped themselves otherwise. General Wood's services were utilized, virtually all the time the United States was at war, as an organizer and trainer of troops in America. General Wood has been the friend of three American presidents—Cleveland, McKinley and Roosevelt. Born at Winchester, N. H., on October 9, 1860, Wood studied medicine at Harvard university and was graduated in 1884. Beginning his career in the United States army as a surgeon he won a congressional medal of honor for distinguished conduct as a lieutenant in Major General H. W. Lawton's campaign against Geronimo and his Apaches in 1886 in the southwest. On April 9, 1891, he was commended in general orders for gallant and hazardous service, courage and energy in commanding a detachment of infantry against hostile Indians in Arizona and New Mexico. In that year he was promoted to a captaincy. For a number of years thereafter he was on duty in California, then in Georgia and finally in Washington. In the administration of President Cleveland he was made attending surgeon at the White House and later filled the same post for President McKinley. Upon the outbreak of the Spanish-American war in 1898, with the aid of Theodore Roosevelt, who had resigned as assistant secretary of the navy, Wood organized the First United States Volunteer cavalry ("Rough Riders") and became its colonel. Roosevelt was its lieutenant colonel. After the battles of Las Guasimas and San Juan Hill in July, 1898, Wood was promoted a brigadier general. The following December he was made a major general of volunteers. The war over, General Wood served as military governor of Cuba from December 12, 1899 until the transfer of the government to the republic of Cuba on May 20, 1902. Roosevelt in a magazine article praised Wood's success in that task. He had built up the government with 98 per cent of Cubans and thus it continued to function after the withdrawal of the American troops. General Wood was sent to the Philippines in 1903 where he remained five years, first as governor of Moro province and the last two years as commander of the Philippine division. In 1908 he came back to the states to command the department of the east. He was chief of staff from 1910 until 1914 and again commander of the department of the east from 1914 to 1917.

Soon after the United States entered the war he was transferred to command a newly created southeastern department with headquarters at Charleston, S. C. He remained there only a few months, being later assigned to command the Riley, Kans. A few months after being ordered to Fort Riley, General Wood was sent on a mission to France by the war department. Early in January, 1918, when on this mission, he was wounded by the bursting of a gun in France, several officers standing near him being killed. He returned to the United States the following March and testified before a senate committee as to the urgent need of rushing troops overseas. While his friends were urging that General Wood's services be utilized at the front in France he was called upon to undergo an army medical examination which, in spite of his 58 years, he successfully passed. He was then ordered to take command of the western department of the army with headquarters at San Francisco. General Wood personally laid his case before President Wilson and his application for service overseas was placed "in the hands of the chief of staff." Representations were made upon the floor of congress by Wood partisans that the general was being unfairly treated and should be sent to France. Secretary Baker declared that he was being kept in the United States "for the good of the service." Meanwhile, instead of being sent to the Pacific coast, General Wood was reassigned to Camp Funston, Kans. A few weeks before the signing of the armistice he received the French cross of the Legion of Honor. On January, 1919, he was appointed commander of the central department with headquarters at Chicago.

McADOO MANAGER ON STAND SAYS SALOONS
NOW RUN WIDE IN PENNSYLVANIA;
PALMER APPOINTS OFFICERS.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 2.—Charges that the campaign of Attorney General Palmer, as democrat candidate for the presidency had been conducted in Pennsylvania with an open appeal to the distillery and brewery interests in the state, were made today before the senate investigating committee, by Eugene C. Boniewicz, of Philadelphia. Mr. Boniewicz, who distributed stickers during the primary campaign, seeking the nomination of W. G. McAdoo, said that saloons and bonded warehouses in some parts of the state were now running "wide open," and that this was proceeding under the eyes of the department of justice prohibition enforcement officers of the Federal Government, appointed "with Mr. Palmer's advice." The witness charged that the Palmer campaign in Pennsylvania had been a "ghastly and defacing degradation of law." He added, "that the campaign he conducted for McAdoo had been entirely the work of himself and his colleagues, and against the specific refusal of McAdoo to allow his name to be used."

WASHINGTON, June 2.—"The doors of the bonded warehouse in Pennsylvania are standing wide open," Mr. Boniewicz said "the breweries are running every day and the saloons are selling three per cent beer." "Men concerned in the sale of liquor," he said "were leading the Palmer fight." "How does all this enter in the presidential primary?" Senator Kenyon asked. "Why it was generally understood that I would have won my campaign, in Pennsylvania had it not been for this sudden unloosening of liquor," Mr. Boniewicz said. "When it became evident that my friends would win, the doors of the warehouses were thrown open and the bars were let down." "Must have wanted to elect Palmer president," Senator Reed observed. "There are four men in Lackawanna who are credited with making a billion dollars apiece out of this campaign," Mr. Boniewicz continued.

WE POOR MUD ROAD BOOBS!

Lieut. Browne of Post Aviation Field who has been flying over this city during the past few days said that Ada was the neatest arranged, best laid off and presented the best appearance from the air of any town in the whole state over which he has flown. He made that statement in the News office this morning. Every stranger who comes within our gates says it is the busiest and best town of its size they have ever visited. Such are the statements of every one of them. With ONE EXCEPTION it does present the best appearance of any ten thousand population city we have ever seen, but that ONE EXCEPTION is a distinct one and the fact that it is true is a crying shame. We have the rottenest streets of any city the size in America, and there is absolutely no excuse for it. The people pay their street taxes promptly—because they have to—and the rate is as high if not higher than the average. If there is no money to work the streets of Ada it is due to bungling and mismanagement and a howling argument for the managerial or some other form of efficient government. To say that the commissioner of public works and property couldn't do something to relieve the condition, at least in the business section of the city where there is no paving, is to talk like a fish. A good team of mules, or a small tractor, and an old split log drag would help a hundred per cent on Ada's streets of sand, and it would cost practically nothing. The country roads in the most benighted sections of the state are works of art compared to the main unpaved thoroughfares of this city, and nobody seems to give a tinker's damn. The commissioner or commissioners whose business it is to keep the streets in passable condition for vehicles should either be persuaded to do their duty or they ought to be recalled under the initiative and referendum law. The initiative, referendum and right of recall were placed in Ada's charter for the purpose of meeting such conditions as we are face to face with at this time. It might be well to rub the rust off that instrument if nothing is done within a reasonable length of time. May God have mercy upon we poor, mud road boobs.

Use Care in Applying Brakes.
Mr. Fleet Cooper of the Fleet Cooper Garage says that a motorist cannot jam on his brakes without affecting his purse. Locked wheels are immediately responsible for tire bills. Mr. Cooper showed the writer a new casing which had been driven only a few miles, yet the rubber was scraped away, exposing the fabric. At the very moment the wheels were locked by the brakes, the tire was passing over a stone which was dragged along with the tire. This stone sawed right through the fabric in one spot and punctured the inner tube. This careless customer, obviously the author of his own misfortune, complained that there was a "weak spot in his tire!" Yet all his trouble, delay and disappointment were caused by smashing on his brakes when he should have applied them gently. As a matter of fact, Mr. Cooper says a car will stop more quickly in almost every case if the brakes are applied gently.

Applying Common Selling Rules.
An essential thing to remember when our service stations today is that they are becoming semi-public institutions, serving all classes. The dealer must be prepared to handle every type of individual from the care-free youth who drives his father's car down to have a cut-out installed to the precise woman who is much wrought up because of a fender that has a one-half inch scratch upon it.

It takes a mighty good salesman to sell the public, especially when the product is automobile service. But the problem is not so complex if those in the service station, principally the service salesman or manager, observes the fundamental principles that apply to selling any product, automobile service or a suit of clothes.

We have only to look about us to see how other commodities are sold and apply the common rules to selling service. We know our likes and dislikes. We do not like to go into a dirty store, nor do we like to be waited upon by uncivil clerks. But, we do like to go into a restaurant with a party of friends and have the head waiter treat us as though it were a privilege for him to give us individual attention, even though he does it with all his customers. He is selling service. He may not know a thing about how the chef cooks our food, all he is interested in is to see that we get what we want and that the house gets paid for what we eat.

We can apply the same thing to the automobile service station. The service manager or salesman need not know how a certain repair is going to be made in the shop. His job is to see that customer Jones gets his wants satisfactorily attended to and that the house gets the money for the job.

Targa Florio Race Sept. 5.
PARIS, June 2.—After numerous modifications the date and the rules of the Targa Florio race to be run on the island of Sicily have been decided on.

This event will be a speed contest of 260 miles run on September 5 over very hilly and difficult roads. The race, which was originally announced for stock cars, is now open to all types of machines, providing they have four-cycle engines. There are to be seven distinct classes, according to piston displacement. The smallest engine admitted in the race will have 91 cu. in. piston displacement, with maximums of 122 cu. in., 152 cu. in., 183 cu. in., 244 cu. in., and 305 cu. in. for the five classes. The 7th class will be for cars having a piston displacement of more than 305 cu. in.

The Florio trophy, valued at $1,000, will be given to the winner of the race irrespective of class distinction. There will also be a regularity prize of $1,000 in cash for the team showing the greatest regularity over the four laps of the course. The race is open to cars of all nations.

Our Question Box

All communications should be addressed to the Auto Man, Ada News. All questions will be answered thru this column.

Engine Misses.

Q—A 1916 Ford when on a pull acts as though the gasoline line were clogged, but everything seems to be clear. The trouble started with just an occasional miss on a pull, but now it will pull scarcely half a block until it begins to miss and then it acts as though it would stop altogether. It makes no difference whether the engine is running fast or slow. This also occurs when driving with the throttle two-thirds open, for any distance. At first it seems to operate all right, but in a short time it acts as though there was an insufficient gasoline supply. As soon as the low gear pedal is depressed on a hard pull and the engine is allowed to run faster the difficulty seems to disappear. A new Holley carburetor was installed, with no improvement. The float level was also raised as high as possible. The valves were ground and carbon removed. A new timer was also tried, but there is no improvement. The spark plugs are apparently in good condition, but the first and third cylinders are slightly scored. The missing does not seem to occur in any particular cylinders. Is it possible that the intake valves leak back into the intake manifold and fouling the mixture on a pull? The engine does not seem to boil the water. Sometimes it does not pick up from a low speed without faltering. It seems to work better on a rich mixture.

Ans.—This may be caused by poor commutator contact, leaky valves that cause poor compression, air leak in the intake manifold, weak exhaust valve springs, too much gap in spark plugs, vibrator out of adjustment or points dirty or burned. The only way you can eliminate the trouble is to find it by a process of elimination and make the necessary adjustments.

Oil Pumping.

Q—Instruct how to prevent a 1918 Oakland Six from pumping oil. We have installed new rings and pistons, but these do not help. We have been told if we would cut the connecting rods and lower the head of the piston with the bottom opening of the spark plug that this would stop our trouble. Would this affect the running of the engine? The top ring on the piston comes up in the opening for the spark plug and it deposits the oil in the plug.

Ans.—Several things are responsible for oil passing by the piston rings. Of these, the following are most common: Scored cylinders, scored pistons, worn or poorly fitted rings, worn pistons or cylinders, improper valve timing and bent connecting rods. Of course, an over-supply of oil or the use of too light an oil will cause this trouble.

Condensation.

Q—What causes water to drip from the exhaust pipe of a Cadillac or Packard?

A—This may be caused by condensation of the moisture in the air. You do not state on just what part of the exhaust pipe this occurs, but the exhaust in some parts of the pipe is not very hot. This would mean that if the air was cooler than the pipe and very moist there would be a collection of moisture that is condensed on the exhaust pipe. This may also be a combination of lubricating oil and gasoline that has worked into the pipe when the engine was missing.

Lack of Speed.

Q—A 1916 6-cylinder Grant does not seem to be working properly. It will not go over 36 m.p.h. It has been overhauled, new piston rings installed and the valves ground and carbon removed.

Ans.—The fact that it will not go over 39 m.p.h. does not indicate that there is anything wrong with the car. Lack of speed may be a result of poor carburetion, retarded spark, poor compression, leaky exhaust valves, wrong valve timing, or a slipping clutch. Of course it is impossible to state the exact cause of your trouble, but if the things mentioned are checked carefully the car ought to make at least 50 m. p. h. under average conditions.

Local Essex Dealer Shows City Salesman Value of Enthusiasm

A little while ago I heard a real salesman talk. It was a revelation to me. I had dropped into the little home town for a visit and stopped at the Hudson and Essex dealer's store for a chat. He was busy with a prospect and I just stood by and listened.

It was a revelation to me in sales-

Fixing This Car Not Difficult Job

A tourist drove his limping automobile into the garage, and asked the manager, "What do you suggest that I have done to the car?" After giving the automobile a critical inspection, the manager replied, "Well, pardner, if that machine belonged to me I would just jack up the radiator cap and run a new car under it."

man'ship. The prospect was cold. The dealer was alive with knowledge, enthusiasm, energy and optimism. He was selling an Essex and how he believed in it! How he talked! His face beamed! His eyes sparkled! He fairly radiated confidence. To him the car was a new wonder of the world.

His words gave a new meaning to the familiar details. You were carried away by his complete belief in the car. His voice sounded true. He believed what he was saying. He was impressive. He was wrapped up in his subject. He had been selling Essex cars since they first came out, but to hear him it would have occurred to you that it was his first day on the job. He was so glowing, so convincing, so sure of what he was saying.

His enthusiasm was contagious and soon communicated itself to the prospect and the sale was closed. For that is the kind of salesmanship that wins. You must have so much faith in yourself and in your car that you cannot fail. "I believe in doing my best every time," this dealer said to me afterwards. "Nothing short of it will succeed. For in the end it spells 'Victory.'"

Enthusiasm combined with hard work are an unbeatable combination. Ninety per cent of failures are due simply to lack of hard work. Lack of hard work fires any salesman no matter how clever he may be. The only time that really counts is the time we are face to face with a prospect. Making lead pencil notes, rushing around with a hurried look of assumed business importance are not hard work. Only actual contact with real Hudson and Essex prospects is work. The rest is just preliminary frill that pays no commissions.

Persistency gives birth to resourcefulness. And it is the resourceful man whose activity leads to business victory, for his mind echoes but one thought—that he is going to be successful—and his intense desire, coupled with constant effort, enables him to win that very thing for which he strives.

"Anyone who thinks that a coyote can run, has never seen a jack-rabbit," says J. A. Gibson, of McClellan-Gentry Motor Co., Oklahoma City, Okla., in commenting on recent stories in The Triangle regarding coyotes being run down by Essex cars.

"Why, a jack-rabbit will run as fast on three legs as a coyote on four, and when he puts down that left hind leg there are only two things that will catch him—a rifle bullet and an Essex," he adds in telling how A. G. Mitchell, Essex dealer at Ponca City, Okla., recently ran down a jack-rabbit with his Essex.

Next question: Can a jack-rabbit run as fast on four legs as a Kangaroo can hop on two?

Why a Majority of the Smaller Cars Come on Goodyear Tires

Last year more cars using 30x3-, 30x3½-, or 31x4-inch tires were factory-equipped with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

This is plainly a result of the high relative value produced in these tires for the smaller cars by Goodyear's enormous resources and scrupulous care.

They represent the same intense endeavor to supply utmost satisfaction in tires that has laid the basis for the marked preference which exists everywhere for Goodyear Tires in the larger sizes.

This real Goodyear value in tires is available for your Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other car using one of these sizes, at our nearest Service Station. Go there for these tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

30x3½ Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread..... $23.50
30x3½ Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread..... $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are thick, strong tubes that reinforce casings properly. Why risk a good casing with a cheap tube? Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost little more than tubes of less merit. 30x3½ size in water—$4.50 proof bag.

GOODYEAR

The Essex Motor is Patented

The Essex motor too is patented. The same men build it who build the Super-Six.

It delivers three times the power of standard motors its size. It is one of the smallest automobile motors. Yet it yields 55 H. P., Conventional motors of this size deliver but 20 H. P. at limit.

Already the Essex stands proved.

It has set every official stock record for cars of its piston displacement from 1 to 50 hours.

It has set the world's official 50-hour endurance record of 3037 miles. It holds the world's 24-hour road record of 1061 miles. These regardless of size, weight, cylinders or type.

It holds the one hour speed record of 69 miles for its classification.

Possibly you could be content with less speed than Essex gives. For many larger and costlier cars cannot rival its fleetness.

But endurance is a satisfaction that is progressive. Lack of it means an increasing accumulation of trouble and dissatisfaction.

Surely you want the durability proved in these unrivalled Essex records, as well as in the satisfactory experience of more than 40,000 owners.

Three letters form a word that means much—a modern city, one with a future, and a city that is growing every day.

Ada is surrounded by splendid farming and stock raising country, aside from the rich mineral deposits beneath, including oil and gas. The city is backed by substantial pay rolls and business institutions, a live Chamber of Commerce and has the best people in the world for its citizens. Today this city stands with 10,000 population and has every modern convenience of larger cities. The above picture shows only a part of the business district but gives one the idea of what a good town looks like. In conclusion it could be said that Ada town is the home of enterprise, the habitude of progress and the stamping ground of prosperity.

NEGLIGEE ALWAYS IS IMPORTANT IN TROSSEAU TIME

By ELOISE

Next to the bridal gown itself there is scarcely any garment of the trousseau that holds more fascination than the negligee. This is usually so luxurious and gorgeous and so different from the ordinary negligee with which the young woman has always been content that choosing it is a veritable fairy dream. To wander about in the negligee shop trying on silky, fluffy robes d'intime is an enviable experience in itself, for the materials and colors are enough to thrill any beauty lover.

Just now many of the shops seem to have thought particularly of the June bride who has a limited sum for her trousseau, for there are any number of negligee sales being held now. The windows are full of beautiful flowing robes of satin, chiffon and georgette and dainty, pert little negligees of taffeta and other silks. The colors are all of the beautiful soft tones of spring flowers and all of the brilliant hues of the rainbow. Lace, satin flowers, pretty ribbon and embroidery are the usual trimmings.

The robe is fashioned of orchid satin and is lined with rose chiffon. It is made on long flowing lines with loose sleeves. The delicate stitching which outlines the seams, yoke and edges is purple and gold. The brunette of rich coloring would favor this over the blond. There are slippers and hose to match.

Roundup at Okmulgee.

By the Associated Press

OKMULGEE, Okla., June 1.—Plans are being rapidly developed for Okmulgee's big roundup to be held at the fair grounds this fall. Harry Hart, owner of the Bald Hill Hereford ranch, and one of the best known cattlemen in Oklahoma, is working in conjunction with L. J. McClure, secretary of the Hereford Cattle Breeders' association of Oklahoma, in lining up a big display of prize stock.

It is expected that the roundup will be attended by 100,000 visitors as the last show of its kind held in Fort Worth drew nearly 300,000 persons.

Owners of the world's greatest bucking horses plan to enter the events which include cowboy trick riding, steer riding contests, wild horse races, bucking horse riders, wild steer riding, trick roping, trick riding, cutting contests, bareback riding and bulldogging steers.

Dam Completed.

GUTHRIE, Okla., June 1.—Work on the dam which will hold back the city's water supply has been completed and Guthrie is assured of an adequate and modern water-works system. Located three miles to the north, this dam, which backs up millions of gallons of water that issue daily from innumerable springs, measures 1,790 feet long, 148 feet wide at the bottom, 12 feet wide at the top and 36 feet high. The soil through which the water percolates is so light colored that the water is clear.

Boxing at Okmulgee.

OKMULGEE, Okla., June 1.—Nate Jackson, well known boxer and fight promoter, is making arrangements for a boxing program to be given at the fair grounds here on the night of June 4. The main event will be between Young Fitzsimmons, a middle weight who fought in several matches here last fall, and some good middleweight. Jackson has a string of fighters this season, among them Tom Story, Peewee Martin and Mutt McKee.

Will Sell Oil Lands.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 1.—A public sale of oil and gas leases on public lands in Lincoln, Pawnee, Payne, Stephens, Pottawatomie and Blaine counties, will be held by the state of Oklahoma June 1 in the office at the state capitol of the secretary to the commissioners of the land office. Each tract will be leased separately to the highest and best bidder.

Each bid must be accompanied, according to the rules of the sale, by a certified check or bank draft for $1,000, payable to the commissioners of the land office, as a deposit to insure execution of the lease by the bidder and the furnishing of bond, as required by state law.

The state will receive a royalty of one-eighth of the oil and gas produced on any tract leased. The lands are leased for a period of five years and as "long thereafter as oil and gas may be produced thereon."

Part of the land to be leased in Payne county is in the bed of the Cimarron river.

Sale of Indian Lands.

MCALISTER, Okla., June 1.—The next sale of Indian lands to be offered at public auction under the direction of the Indian department will be held at McAlester, June 24. Sales also will be conducted in Claremore, Tulsa, Muskogee, Holdenville, Ardmore, Chickasha, Hugo and Salisaw.

Lands to be sold here total 797 acres, including tracts in Pittsburg, Latimer and Atoka counties. The appraised values range from $2.50 to $30 an acre. The first sale takes place June 21 and the last June 30.

Peanuts May Bring Circus.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 1.—Oklahoma's abundance of peanuts may prove the deciding factor in bringing a combined circus and wild west show into winter quarters here. The shows have made application to the Chamber of Commerce for particulars concerning Oklahoma City's facilities for housing, and incidentally "food for the elephants." Food and shelter for the menagerie is one of the greatest problems in the wintering of a wild animal circus, it was brought out, and investigation is now under way here to determine whether or not some of the buildings at the fair grounds will be available.

Peanuts, hay and grain, the major portion of any menagerie's diet are plentiful. Oklahoma seemingly is one of the greatest peanut producing states in the United States, as this food is considered one of the big assets of a wintering site by the combined shows.

Intelligent Buying for the Home

The cost-of-living problem has been studied by some able people. One of them said: "What every American home needs most is intelligent buying."

Wise buying saves money. A well-spent dollar always brings more than if carelessly spent.

The one great help to intelligent buying is information. This is best obtained by reading the advertisements in your newspaper. Reading advertisements gives you knowledge of what is new and good. It keeps you posted as to values. It enables you to plan your expenditures wisely and make your purchases to best advantage.

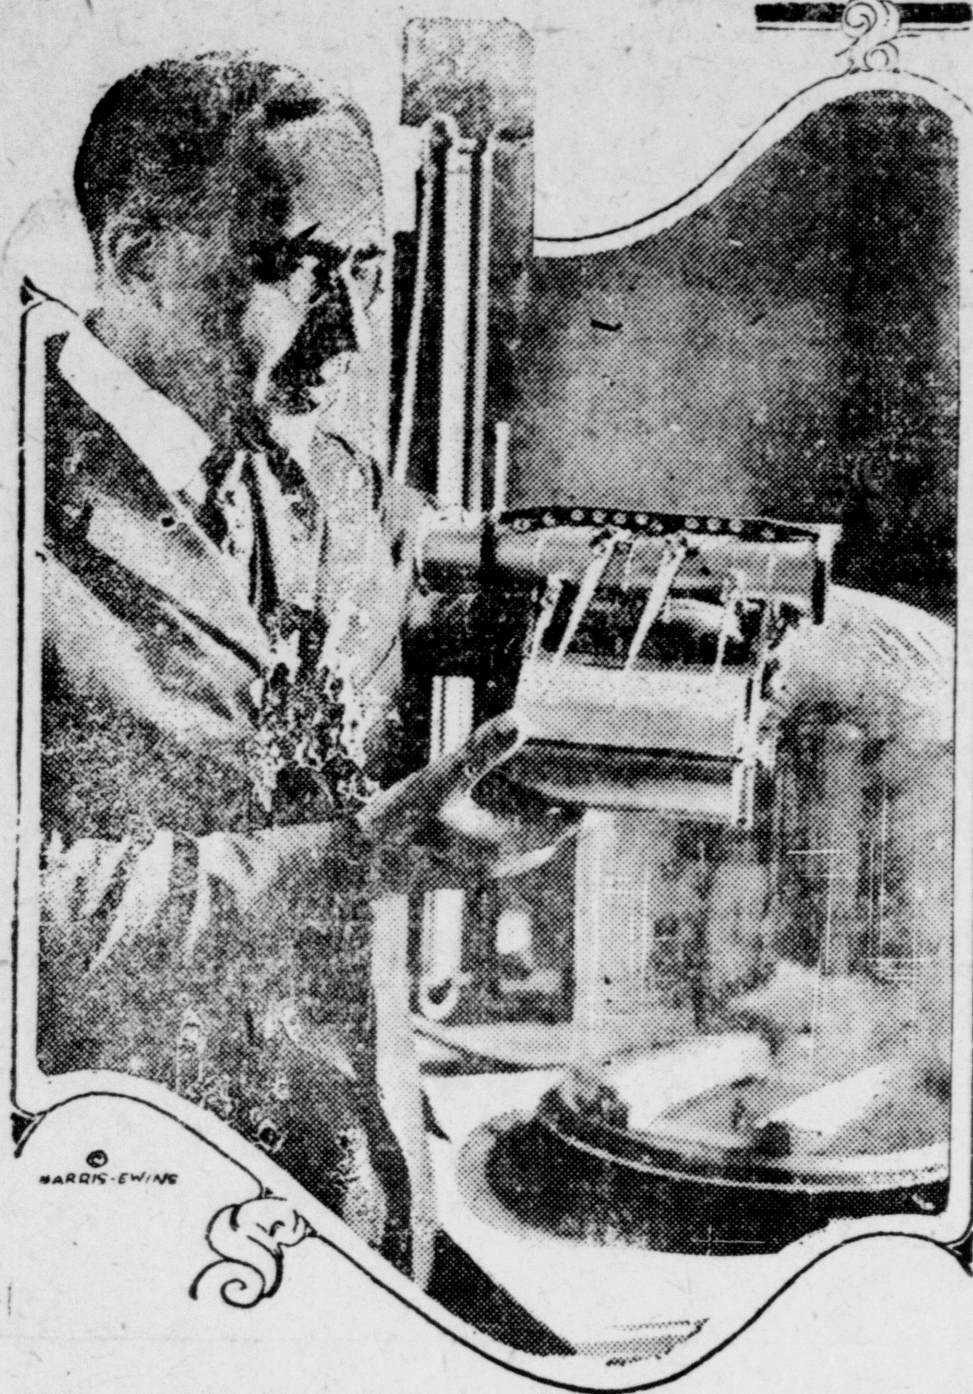

There are two great reasons for this. Advertised goods are almost invariably dependable. They are good value or it would not pay to advertise them.

Merchants and manufacturers who put these advertisements in the paper are progressive and want to give good values. They know the advertising, by increasing the number of sales, will lower prices and give you more for your money.

Whether your buying is large or small, buy intelligently. Read the advertisements in this newspaper for the necessary information.

WEATHER BUREAU CHIEF INVENTS WEATHER-OBSERVING INSTRUMENTS

Prof. Charles F. Marvin and his Meteorograph

Prof. Charles F. Marvin, chief of the United States weather bureau, is the inventor of a new self-recording weather-observing instrument called a meteorograph. The instrument automatically indicates various changes in weather conditions at any altitude. It is lifted into the air by a large box kite secured to earth by a piano wire string of great tensile strength. The wire is fed from a steel drum containing eight or ten miles of wire.

Frequently at the six box kite stations maintained by the bureau as many as ten kites are operated on one line. One outfit broke away from the Georgia station and helplessly entangled a mule in a cotton field. After three men had released the mule the meteorograph was found unharmed.

Studying the upper air by the use of this instrument with kites has largely displaced the expensive balloons formerly maintained. The information is used as a basis for forecasts as well as for the guidance of the government's airplanes.

THREE-PIECE SUIT FOR SUMMER MAKES STUNNING COSTUME

By Eloise

Here is an outfit which ought to make a special appeal to the 1920 summer girl. It is a snappy three-piece suit which combines good lines, fashionable features and serviceable qualities, an unusual combination in these days of high prices and poor values. This model is made of silk tulle, but it might be made of jersey, serge, wool tricolette, taffeta or silk poplin.

It is pearl gray tricolette tastefully trimmed with navy taffeta. The frock may be worn separate for street or afternoon wear, for it resembles a suit dress and is complete without the wrap. The cape, too, may be worn separate and is a smart extra wrap for wear with summer frocks. Worn together, however, these two garments make a most stunning and fashionable outfit for street or afternoon wear in city or country. Such an outfit will be popular for wear at the summer sport events, the country club tennis matches, the races, yachting events, golf tournaments and the like.

Here a draped hat made of white horsehair cloth or batavia completes the outfit. A small turban of some bright hue, a sailor of navy or pearl gray straw or a large, drooping brimmed hat of tough straw would be equally pleasing.

Fancy sewing and dress making. Mrs. Chas. N. Auld, 301 East 13 St. 2-11-12

WAS PROPRIETOR OF THE TOWN

Not long ago, the story runs, a traveling salesman visited a certain small town and sold the proprietor of its general store an order of jewelry. When the jewelry arrived it was not as represented, and the merchant consequently returned it. But the wholesale house nevertheless attempted to collect the bill, and drew a sight draft on the merchant through the local bank which returned the draft unendorsed.

The wholesalers then wrote to the postmaster about the financial standing of the merchant and the postmaster replied laconically that it was O. K.

By return mail the wholesalers requested him to collect the account and they received the following reply:

"The undersigned is the merchant on whom you attempted to palm off your worthless goods. The undersigned is president and owner of the bank to which you sent your sight draft. The undersigned is the postmaster to whom you wrote, and the undersigned is the lawyer whose services you sought to obtain for your nefarious business. If the undersigned were not also pastor of the church at this place he would tell you to go to hell.—(?)

NEWEST EDGAR LEWIS FILM OF TWIN BROTHERS

The long awaited Edgar Lewis production, "Other Men's Shoes," is announced for showing at the American Theatre next Thursday and Friday. This is the first Edgar Lewis picture distributed under the Pathe banner.

Edgar Lewis' production of such features as "The Great Divide," "The Barrier," "The Bondman," "The Blunderer," "The Nigger," "The Light at Dusk," "The Bar Sinister," "The Sign Invisible," and many others, has won for him the reputation of the greatest director of outdoor stories. The themes of his stories are always clean and wholesome, yet vigorous and potent and abounding in dramatic situations.

"Other Men's Shoes" is no exception to Mr. Lewis' rule of good photo-play entertainment. Andrew Soutar is the author of the story, which is skillfully woven around twin brothers who are so alike in face, figure and voice, that one can take the place of the other without detection by his most intimate friends.

Crauford Kent was chosen by Mr. Lewis as the ideal type to portray the dual role, and others in the cast are Irene Boyle, Jean Armour, Harold Forsyth, John P. Wade, Phil Sanford, Stephen Gratton and young Bobby Connelly.

Poles Defeat Bolsheviks

By the Associated Press

LONDON, June 1.—Russian Bolshevik forces fighting against the Poles and Ukrainians, Tarashtcha region, south of Kiev, have retired to a new position, after fighting with superior enemy forces, says an official statement issued here by wireless today. Several villages in the neighborhood of Molodechno, northwest of Minsk, abandoned by the soviet troops Saturday, have been re-occupied with heavy fighting, the statement says.

What About Briles

A very interesting political significance is attached to a news item of the week which stated that Prof. C. W. Briles, present head of the vocational educational board of the state, will probably be appointed president of the Ada state normal to succeed President J. M. Gordon, who has accepted the presidency of the Henry Kendall college at Tulsa.

The fact that Mr. Briles should be mentioned in connection with the Ada normal presidency is not of itself politically significant, for he was for a long time president of that institution, and there, as elsewhere, he has been a very successful school man. But he has been one of the strongest factors in the politics of this state since Oklahoma secured sovereignty, from 1907 until this moment, has never failed to assert his convictions, and at least once, paid very dearly for his active support of a friend who sought public office, and his return to the normal school service at this time would carry some very important political and governmental implications.

At the beginning of statehood Mr. Briles was the head of the Muskogee city schools, where he had attained popularity, not only in the schools, but among the populace at large. He was made president of the Ada state normal when it was established and gained a popularity and influence in that very important section of democratic Oklahoma. He was known not only as a successful school head, but also as being one of the strong factors in the Haskell democratic organization.

In fact, when Governor Haskell was being assailed in the Hearst newspapers and the New York editor had sent Scott McReynolds to Oklahoma to gather information against the governor and assist in the campaign to drive him from the state, it was Briles who secured the information that the Hearst representative was an ex-convict and the information he secured drove McReynolds from the state and closed the Hearst-Haskell incident.

In the campaign of 1914, Briles, still president of the Ada normal, espoused the gubernatorial candidacy of Judge J. B. A. Robertson and became among his most active and influential supporters. Those who have good political memories will recall the bitterness existing between supporters of Judge R. L. Williams and Judge Robertson at that time, and when the former became governor it was generally believed that Mr. Briles would pay the penalty for his devotion to his defeated friend. His removal followed shortly after Governor Williams had been given opportunity to reorganize the state board of education but it did not eliminate Briles, for he was given a position as a department head in the A. & M. college at Stillwater, at that time under the control of Frank Gault, a vigorous opponent of Governor Williams.

It will also be recalled that Briles and State Superintendent R. H. Wilson, chairman of the state board of education—which is the board controlling the state normal schools, have not agreed. This difference came to a head in 1918, when Mr. Briles announced as a candidate for state superintendent, to which office Mr. Wilson was aspiring for the third time. He continued in that race, as did George Wilson, also a teacher in the A. & M. college. As it was a contest between the supporters and opponents of the state superintendent, Mr. Briles withdrew, but gave his active support to George Wilson's candidacy in a campaign marked by violent attacks upon Mr. Wilson.

The state superintendent's success, however, did not lessen the Briles hold on the governor or among those state educators who have always supported him, and he became the head of the vocational educational system of the state. This was very clearly not in accordance with the wishes of the state superintendent, who is a member of the board controlling that office, but outnumbered by other members in sympathy with the governor.

Should Mr. Briles now be appointed as the head of any of the large state educational institutions it would require no very careful student of politics to understand that his ascendancy indicated that the governor is securely in control of the state's educational situation and disposed to use that control, for few men of the state have more clearly manifested their belief in the present chief executive than C. W. Briles, and just as surely is it true that Briles has held his place in the educational system without assistance from the state superintendent, and that the two men are not politically friendly.

In any event, Briles is one of the few men in Oklahoma who have been continuously active in politics since statehood, and have been able to maintain equilibrium notwithstanding many political upheavals. This appointment is one of the most interesting to be made in the near future.—Harlow's Weekly.

Riots in Germany

By the Associated Press

LONDON, June 1.—Riotous disorders are taking place in Germany, as a result of the political campaign in the country, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. A meeting of the democrat party in Berlin Sunday ended in a serious fight, it is said, communists storming the speaker's platform at a meeting held at Mecklenburg, where the secretary of a secretive meeting was badly mauled and was found unconscious after the gathering had adjourned. The dispatch declared that everywhere in Germany there is great tension and that several land owners are said to have fled to Berlin to escape the conservatives.

Major Leaguers on Batting Rampage

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, Ill., May 29. — Jack Fournier, the former American leaguer now playing first base with the St. Louis Nationals, is on a batting rampage which promises to rush him to the front in the National league race. The big first baseman boosted his batting mark from .293 last week to .336 this week, according to averages released today and which include games of Wednesday.

Fournier participated in thirty-two games and in 119 times at bat cracked out forty-one hits for a total of 48 bases.

Cy Williams, the Philadelphia outfielder, also has made a spurt toward the top. Williams acquired an average of .320 as compared with .276 a week ago. In addition to his batting dash, Williams bagged his fourth circuit drive. His 41 hits, include 11 doubles and 3 triples.

Last week's three batting leaders switched positions, each suffering a slump. Hornsby of St. Louis went to the top with .403; Groh of Cincinnati is runner-up with .398, and Nicholson of Pittsburgh third with .380. Lebourveau of Philadelphia, who had been making a spirited showing, dropped from .361 to .300.

Max Carey, the speedy outfielder with Pittsburgh, added three more bases to his credit and is out in front among the base stealers with an even dozen.

Other batters: Daubert, Cincinnati .339; Fournier, St. Louis .336; Twombly, Chicago .333; Duncan, Cincinnati .323; Williams, Philadelphia .320; E. Smith, New York .320; Stock, St. Louis .319; Young, New York .318; Robertson, Chicago .315; Neale, Cincinnati .314; Roush, Cincinnati .312; Janvin, St. Louis .312.

"Babe" Ruth, the New York slugger, broke up the triple tie in the American league for home run honors by driving out three circuit drives since a week ago Wednesday, and now has a total of eight. Felsch of Chicago and Walker of Philadelphia, continue as runners-up, each having bagged a homer during the week and are tied with six each.

Johnson of Cleveland continues to top the batters with .375, while Hendryx, Boston, is the runner-up with .370.

Rice, of Washington, pulled away from his teammate, Bobby Roth, in stolen bases, and is showing the way with 14 thefts. Roth has pilfered ten.

Ty Cobb, the Detroit star, who last week appeared to have struck his batting stride, suffered a slump and dropped from .277 to .252.

Other leading batters: Jackson, Chicago .362; Jacobson, St. Louis .360; Weaver, Chicago .351; Judge, Washington .346; Sisler, St. Louis .341; Speaker, Cleveland .339; McInnis, Boston .333; Gedeon, St. Louis .330; Dugan, Philadelphia .330; Gerber, St. Louis .327; Felsch, Chicago .327.

Ben Tincup, the Indian pitcher with Louisville, is the new batting leader in the American association. Tincup acquired an average of .400 in 20 games, connecting with 18 hits.

Henry of Columbus moved into second place with .380. Leo Dessen, the speedy first baseman with St. Paul, is so far in the lead in base stealing that his string of 14 thefts is causing his rivals considerable worry.

Bunny Brief of Kansas City bagged his sixth homer for the leadership in home run hitting. Other leading batters: Wickland, Toledo .376; O'Mara, Indianapolis .368; Gainer, Milwaukee .348; Dyer, Toledo .336; Miller, St. Paul .326; Robertson, Minneapolis .323; Kelley, Toledo .322; Duncan, St. Paul .319. Pitcher Carl East of Wichita has established a batting record that is the envy of the Western leaguers. East is topping the league with an average of .436, and is the leading home run hitter, having cracked out six. He poled three homers in a single game and also bagged three doubles in a day.

Bogart of Joplin, Lee of Omaha and Smith of Wichita are fighting it out for honors in base stealing. Bogart is showing the way with 11, while his rivals have 10 each. Other leading batters: Shestak, St. Joseph .425; Reichle, Sioux City .413; Bogart, Joplin .398; Brannon, Tulsa .388; Coffey, Des Moines .376; Dunn, Joplin .343; Pitt, Oklahoma City .370; Bonowitz, St. Joseph .365; Platte, Omaha .357.

Batting rivals of Blades, the Memphis slugger, failed to drive him out of first place in the list of Southern association hitters. Blades boosted his average to .358 with Miller of Little Rock in second place with .346; Miller is the leading home run hitter with five to his credit. Carroll of Memphis continues to pile up stolen bases, having 14. Other leading batters: Brazil, Atlanta .342; Carroll, Memphis .328; Moore, Little Rock .323; Riperton, New Orleans .322; Harper, Little Rock .321; Wano, Little Rock .316; Torkelson, New Orleans .308; High, Atlanta .307.

FARMERS OPPOSE TAX ON LAND

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, Ill., June 1.—The result of the first referendum of farmers ever taken in this country will be reported tomorrow to the executive committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation. The committee convenes here for its first called meeting.

The referendum was taken on a bill in congress to place a special tax on land. The farmers cast against it 557,366 votes, and for it 2260 votes.

The number of counties voting was 521. The state numbered 18. They were Wyoming, West Virginia, New Jersey, Missouri, New Hampshire, Vermont, Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota, South Dakota, New York, California, Indiana, Iowa, Ohio, Colorado, Idaho and Massachusetts.

The largest vote cast was in Iowa. Farmers to the number of 77,394 participated therein the referendum. New York farmers cast 60,686 votes. Illinois showed third in voting strength in the referendum, casting 59,267 votes.

The farmers' referendum was taken on a bill introduced in the house at Washington providing for the raising of public revenues by a tax on the privileges of the use and enjoyment of lands of large value. The bill provides, "That all persons, firms, associations and corporations owning land in value in excess of $10,000.00 whether in possession or leased to others, shall be subject to an excise tax upon the privilege of the use and enjoyment of such excess at the rate of 1 per centum."

In sending the referendum to the farmers, the American Farm Bureau Federation said in explanation:

"The object of this act is to raise public revenues. It is not supposed that it will do away entirely with, but be supplementary to the present income tax laws. The proponents of this and similar measures believe that land does not at

MOTHER OF FIRST AMERICAN SOLDIER KILLED IN FRANCE

Mrs. Alice Gresham Dodd, First War Mother of the Nation Gives the Entire Credit for Recovery of Her Health to the Well Known Medicine, Tanlac.

The following remarkable endorsement of Tanlac was given recently by Mrs. Alice Gresham Dodd, at the Gresham Memorial Home, Gavin Park, Evansville, Ind., which home was presented to her by the patriotic people of Indiana, as evidence rendered to his country by her son, Corporal James B. Gresham, the first American soldier killed in France. Expressions of sympathy were received by Mrs. Dodd from all parts of the United States and the newspapers of the country carried the story of the first "war mother".

The shock of her son's death resulted in the serious breakdown of Mrs. Dodd's health, but everyone will learn with interest and pleasure that she is now in splendid health again. When seen at her home recently she made the following statement, giving the entire credit for her recovery to the well-known medicine, Tanlac.

"After my dear boy's death, I had a general breakdown in health," said Mrs. Dodd. "At first it was just in digestion. My food used to upset me and I had to diet myself very carefully, which wasn't much hardship as I lost all desire to eat. Then I had an attack of rheumatism, with severe pains in my shoulders, back and arms. Sometimes I used to suffer a great deal, and my joints would get all swollen up and stiff. I was able to do very little about the house, and at times couldn't even cook a meal. I got very nervous and restless, and at night would lay awake for hours, and lost many a night's sleep as a consequence.

"A friend of mine had received a great deal of help from Tanlac, and present bear its just proportion of taxes as compared to the industries.

"In considering this act you should not allow the fact that the revenues therefrom will come in principal part from the farmers to prejudice your judgment but should consider it in relation to fairness to other interests, and whether or not it would be of sufficient burden to affect land values, rentals or incomes and thus affect production."

Nearly half of the farmers voting in favor of an extra land tax came from Illinois. Here 1103 of 2260 affirmative votes were cast. New Hampshire gave the largest percentage in proportion to the vote cast by a state, 571 New Hampshire farmers voting for and 3439 against. In seven states not a single ballot was cast for the proposition.

Would you step into "OTHER MEN'S SHOES" if they belonged to a minister and you had just stepped out of a prison? Would you be surprised if a minister you thought to be a weakling hit you a wallop in the jaw? Would you believe in spiritualism if you had killed a man and then met him face to face? Are you fighting anyone's life battles beside your own? Would you give up the love of a girl to gain your ideals if you knew she would fall into the hands of an unscrupulous man? If you should suddenly step into "OTHER MEN'S SHOES" and become a minister would you allow yourself to be blackmailed? Can one man step into "OTHER MEN'S SHOES"? Are you your brother's keeper? Are you a misfit? Do you like a tender, sensitive parson, or a fighting minister? Could you fit into "OTHER MEN'S SHOES"? Do you understand the other man? Are you soft-hearted or hard-hearted towards strangers? Would you give up everything to have the love of a good woman? See "OTHER MEN'S SHOES" and you will see these questions answered. It teems with humanity! It vibrates with your heartbeats! A man's picture—full of red-blooded action. A woman's picture—with tears and heart throbs. We clean while others try;
There's some who want to frail us,
And every day we dye.

No, not a death of torture,
But for some wise old soul
Who dyes his suit another shade,
To save a pound of gold.

Veterans Will Go To Ardmore in Cars For Annual Reunion

The Wm. L. Byrd Camp U. C. V., will attend the state reunion at Ardmore next Wednesday in a body. Cars will be supplied by local citizens and the old vets will leave Ada about 5 o'clock Wednesday a. m. Captain A. M. Crow head of the camp says they expect a great time at the convention and expect to show Ada off in good fashion as usual. Judge J. W. Bole, Marvin Brown and other citizens will go with the veterans to help them enjoy the reunion.

Miss Murray Lucas is sponsor for the Ada camp of the veterans. Her maids of honor have not yet been selected.

EX-CONVICT WEARS SHOES OF PREACHER BROTHER

Do you believe that a man who had served a year in prison could step into the shoes of his minister brother? There is such a situation as the central theme of "Other Men's Shoes," the Edgar Lewis production, released by Pathe, coming to the American Theatre next Thursday and Friday.

Stephen and Jim Browning were twin brothers so alike in face, form and voice that their most intimate friends could not tell them apart. Both were splendid men morally, but Stephen, the minister, was frail of body and meek of spirit and unable to withstand the buffets of a greedy and grasping world. Jim had heeded the call of Wanderlust for twelve years and had gone to jail for the crime of another.

When the strong brother steps into the shoes of the meek brother interesting complications arise, for no one but his sister and brother know of the townspeople whose attitude of tolerant respect changed to whole-hearted admiration when their minister suddenly displayed a courageous, two-fisted fighting spirit.

Clean, wholesome, vigorous, human and dramatic, "Other Men's Shoes" has been called one of the finest productions of the new year. Crawford Kent heads a splendid cast in which are Irene Boyle, Harold Forsyth, John P. Wade, Jean Armour, Phil Sanford and Bobby Connolly.

THE BEST ASSET OF ADA

We have lived in this city called Ada now for more than two years. While living here on the inside looking out we have tried to learn what we could of the city's good qualities. We have followed the accounts of our city press agents and have heartily endorsed every claim they made for their city. But conceding everything they have claimed for our industries, and schools and churches, and business enterprises and resources, we are of the opinion that they have failed to stress the greatest thing this city possesses.

Ada is a city of homes. No other city in Oklahoma surpasses this one as a suitable place to live and rear a family. In fact we fail to recall a single city within the boundaries of our state that even equals Ada in this respect. We have ideal health conditions. We have a water supply that is the wonder of Oklahoma. We have the most beautiful homes, kept by law loving and God fearing people. We have a city of homes and those homes are occupied by real home lovers and home builders.

This is the crowning glory of Ada. This is our strongest asset as we see it and we commend this asset to the men charged with advertising our city. Tell the public the full truth concerning our factories, our schools, our churches, our resources, our health conditions, our water supply, and our splendid growth. But emphasize the fact that the home-seeker can go north or east or south or west and nowhere beneath the skies of Oklahoma will he find a city better fitted for the establishing and maintaining of an ideal home. Tell the people of the great Southwest that when they have finished their business course or desire to place their kiddies in a good school among good people, no better city beneath the stars can be found for their purpose than this city of Ada.

FEET OF CLAY

When the Industrial Court bill was pending in the legislature of Kansas one of the representatives said that it was the most iniquitous measure that ever appeared in the legislature of the Sunflower state. That it introduced industrial servitude in to Kansas was the assertion of the indignant legislator. But because the public mislead by clamor was demanding the measure the representative aforesaid declared his intention of voting for it. And he did vote for it.

Only a few days ago when the legislature of Kentucky had passed an anti-syndicalism law similar to the law of Oklahoma. Governor Morrow sent a fiery message to the legislature denouncing the law. His message covered many pages. But after exhausting his vocabulary in denunciation of the measure Governor Morrow signed it.

These two illustrations might be supplemented by many others. Hundreds of similar cases have marked the legislative history of Oklahoma. They confirm the conclusion we have been reaching for some time that the greatest evil this country is suffering from is a lack of moral courage.

A Sermon By the Editor

When you made your debut on this mundane sphere, who was it that published a glowing account of your arrival? Was it the printer with a job shop, or was the struggling editor who ran the paper in the home town and who was striving to make that town a fit place to live in?

When you graduated from school, won the laurels over your colleagues in debate, song or declamation, and made the breasts of your dear old parents swell with pride, was it the job printer who told the neighborhood about your triumphs and hung a wreath of glory over your expansive brow, or was it the editor, who also runs a job shop and depends on it to help him produce a paper that made your town grow and flourish like the proverbial green bay tree?

When you led that sweet young thing to the altar, took her by a lily white hand and swore eternal fidelity to her through thick and thin so long as the great God of the universe might let you live—who was it then that heaped encomiums of praise upon yours and her antecedents and placed you and her in the gallery of fame forever, possibly prevaricating in the attempt? Was it the job printer out for cash, or was it the printer with a newspaper, trying to render service that you were never able to repay?

When your own first tot peekabooed his way into this benighted but hopeful realm, who was it that told what a wonderful thing had transpired in your home, and what a wonderful prospect the young hopeful had in view of the intelligence and refinement of its proud and prosperous parents? Was it the job printer on the corner, or was the printer with the newspaper who had boosted you all the days of your miserable or unmiserable life?

Finally, when death stalked into your home, seythe in hand, and took from you the light of your home and household, was it the job printer that sighed and sympathized with you in your affliction? Was it he who described the floral offerings and pronounced the popularity of your household in language that lives unto this day and hour? No, it was the editor of the local paper, the only man in your community that was capable of getting the message to the people, thereby extolling your virtues and hiding your iniquities.

Moral: Just printers are not capable of rendering service for the public weal that can be rendered by the editor who runs the paper. That is a class of service he renders every week and every day for which he gets no pay unless the business public is magnanimous enough to repay him by placing with him their orders for everything they need in the printed line. Think it over!

SUFFRAGE REFERENDUM KILLED BY HIGH COURT

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 2.—(Special)—That the submission of the Susan B. Anthony amendment to a vote of the people of Oklahoma has been prevented by the decision of the United States supreme court is conceded by all attorneys here. The petitions asked to a referendum on the amendment had been circulated and it is said that a sufficient number of signatures had been secured when the supreme court announced its decision. That the matter cannot be submitted now is admitted by the proponents of the referendum.

The case before the supreme court was a referendum on the national prohibition amendment taken up from Ohio. The legislature of that state ratified the amendment, but an effort was made to refer the matter to a popular vote. The case was taken to the supreme court which announced its decision yesterday.

The supreme court declares that under the provisions of the national constitution an amendment to the constitution can be ratified by the legislature only and when that ratification has been had it is final. No provision has been made in the constitution to submit the amendment to a popular election and such an election can not be had, says the court in its decision. This decision automatically closes the referendum on the prohibition amendment in Ohio and on the suffrage amendment in Oklahoma.

Just what effect the court decision will have on the senatorial candidacy of Attorney General Freeling is a question that interests politicians in the state capital. General Freeling has had the lead in circulating the petitions asking for a referendum on the suffrage amendment and it has been understood that his candidacy has been based on that issue. Now that his issue has been removed from politics by the supreme court there is much speculation as to what course he will pursue. An early announcement of his intentions is expected.

Development Seen in Oil Production In Many Pontotoc Fields

Oil development is taking place in many fields in Pontotoc county at the present time. In addition to the Francis field, work is being done at Steedman, Roff and Allen. This takes in almost every part of the county.

Bob Ford, who gives practically his whole time to the oil business, was in the city yesterday and gave the following notes of production at present:

The Westheimer and Daube people are making a deep test in 12-3-8 four miles southeast of Francis. This well is now down 3,300 feet. They have passed through several oil sands but hope to find a deep flow further in the ground. They are drilling on this test at the present time.

Six new wells are being put down in the Allen field at the present time.

R. P. Ford has let the contract for 21 new wells in the Steedman field.

The Vickery Oil company is down 160 feet in 29-5-7.

Lee and Smith are down 450 feet in 2-4-8.

The Harvey Universal people are making two locations in the Steedman field.

The Daokla people are down 350 feet in their No. 3 well.

Upshur and Upshur of Oklahoma City are preparing to drill.

J. Milton Ashton is shipping rigs to dig eight wells in section 24-4-8.

A carload of pipe is being unloaded at Steedman to be used in the drilling operations on the Bob Ford land.

W. J. Smith Dies.

W. J. Smith, aged 60 years, died of tuberculosis at his home, 419 West 3rd street, this morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Smith had been a citizen of Ada only a short time.

Funeral services will be held for Mr. Smith tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock with interment following at Rosedale.

Mr. Smith is survived by his wife and eight children, all of whom live in Ada.

Automobile Notes

The W. E. Harvey Ford Agency report the delivery of a truck to the Ada Coca-Cola Bottling company.

Rock & Cope garage are doing a splendid repair business this week. Aside from this class of work they report a good sales on parts, tires and batteries.

Fleet Cooper, the Nash agency is doing an exceptionally good business this week. Mr. Cooper is a live dealer and sells a good car. He has buyers for several cars and is awaiting deliveries from the factory.

Cox & Burden garage are doing a good repair business this week together with good sales on tires tubes and accessories. They have an exceptionally large storage room for cars and report a good business in this department.

Baker-Reidt Motor company, the Chandler people have added an exclusive repair department for this make of car. They are also handling the International motor truck. H. P. Donley the local manager states that the prospects for a good business this summer are very bright.

The Grant Irwin garage on Town send avenue are waiting on new cars for local buyers. They handle Buicks and state that they have quite a few buyers for these cars as soon as the factory can make the deliveries. They are doing a good business in the repair and accessories departments.

A. L. Brown and S. B. Starbuck have opened a transfer business in Mr. Norris' new building on North Broadway. They bought a one ton Nash truck of Fleet Cooper about one month ago when they first opened and today added a two ton truck to their equipment. The firm is using only Nash products.

It seems that the automobile business is hindered at present owing to the fact that local dealers cannot secure new cars for buyers. Labor trouble in the eastern factories is one cause of the shortage, together with shortage of material. This hindrance is expected to be overcome in the next 10 days.

Two Maxwell trucks owned by the local transfer company had a picnic party of 151 children which were evenly divided on each. The trip to the lake was made without any trouble and this was an exceptionally large load for a truck. The hills between this city and the lake were made without any stop. Ada Motor Sales company handle this truck.

The Fred Ford garage and machine shop are working over time this week taking care of a large business. They are somewhat hindered in their work on account of the scarcity of mechanics but are putting forth renewed energy in an effort to overcome this difficulty. The sale of Essex and Hudson cars has been good this week and their accessories department has enjoyed a business flourish.

REPUBLICANS BUSY WITH STATE FIGHTS

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, June 2.—Resuming work on convention contests the republican national committee today seated the 12 uninstructed delegates from Louisiana, headed by Emil Kuntz of New Orleans, national committeeman, and dismissed the contest of the "lilly white" group, led by C. S. Herbert and Mitchell Losiel of New Orleans. Further time to check evidence in the Georgia case was given to the sub-committee, headed by Charles Warren of Michigan, who said a comparison of duplicate state convention rolls would take much more time.

President Signs Resolution
WASHINGTON, June 2.—President Wilson today signed a joint resolution eliminating from the agricultural appropriation bill the Comer amendment affecting cotton futures grades, which through a clerical error, was included in the original measure, signed yesterday.

C. W. Zorn made a business trip to Oklahoma City yesterday. Mr. Zorn is organizing a stock company for the purpose of establishing an alfalfa mill in this city. He reports that the plans are meeting the approval of local business men and the company will be perfected right away.

Samuel Wilenzick, who has been attending the Boonville Military school at Boonville, Mo., has returned to this city. Mr. Wilenzick graduated from this school and will assist his father, H. Wilenzick, a local merchant, with his store. He was the athletic and military editor of the school's paper, "The Star-Shell."

Quite a lively time was had at Vanoss yesterday afternoon between Elmer Garland and Shade Smith on the streets of that city. It seems that these men had engaged in previous difficulties and met again and the old trouble was brought up. Aside from a loss of skin and a waste of physical energy everything passed away very nicely. They paid fines of $26.50 each.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ehrlich of New York are in the city today. Mr. Ehrlich is traveling for the G. Sidenberg & Co., wholesale cotton products manufacturers. He states that the large mills in the east are short of raw material and that cotton is high and hard to find. Great Exhibition Is Promised for Members Of American Legion

A great time is promised tomorrow night to the members of Norman V. Howard Post 72 American Legion when they assemble at the city hall. The first part of the meeting will be given over to the regular business of the organization. After this is completed the hall will be turned into a gymnasium and the following events will be staged:

A free-for-all fight between six burly negroes.
 A 15 minute wrestling bout between Toy White and Guy Young, two local athletes.
 A 10-round boxing bout between "Kid" Johnson of Fort Worth, Texas, and Jack Kelly of Sulphur. Johnson weighs 155 pounds while Kelly tips the scales at 153. They are both boxers of the first magnitude and will put up a performance that will be interesting.

Only American Legion members and those of their friends who have special invitations will be permitted to witness this first class performance. These sporting entertainments are put on for the purpose of securing additional members for the American Legion. At the present time there are about 150 members in the local post out of a possible 500. Pontotoc county had 1,914 men accepted for army service in the late war, about 500 of which lived in Ada. The price of membership in the Legion is only $2.00 per year, which membership carries with it subscription to The American Legion Weekly. If you are an ex-soldier and have not joined the Legion you should do so at once and get in on all the good things they are to stage this year. Those who have paid dues can get their cards at the entrance door tomorrow night.

Fastest Team In This Part of State To Be Here Sunday

Clarita will cross bats with Ada Next Sunday on the local field. This game was scheduled for a couple of Sundays ago but it was postponed on account of rain.

The Clarita team is made up of the same players who worked with Tupelo when they lost to Ada some weeks ago. The score in this game was 1 to 0, which made it the closest game played here this year. In fact the Tupelo-Clarita men are the only men yet matched by the local men of whom Ada is afraid. Oneal who pitched for Tupelo in the former game will pitch for Clarita Sunday.

Cemetery Drive To Be Made Tomorrow Expect Good Results

The Cemetery Association will make a complete canvass of the city Thursday, June 3rd to collect the annual dues from the members and solicit new one. Normal Notes

The enrollment today for the summer term of school was registered at 744. Mrs. Ruth Carter is registrar.

The entertainment given on the campus of the Normal last night was a highly successful affair. A writeup of this event is given in a separate article.

The work of the summer term is now going on in full swing. All classes are working regularly and the work of the term promises to be beneficial in a great measure.

Miss Emma K. Kellar left today for Chattanooga, Tenn., where she will visit her brother, Col Earle Kellar, who is stationed at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. After visiting her brother for a few days Miss Kellar will go to New York City where she will take a special course in music during the summer.

The first chapel exercises of the term were held this morning from 9 to 10 o'clock. Something of the work to be done during the term was discussed and the following pastors of the city addressed the students: Rev. R. C. Taylor of the Methodist church, Rev. Clyde Cahoon Morris of the Baptist church, Rev. LeRoy Elkins of the Church of Christ and Rev. C. V. Dunn of the Christian church. The chapel exercises will be held each Wednesday morning from 9 to 10. Next week the revivalists now performing at the Baptist church will address the students at the chapel hour.

Buck Passing

Theoretically the City Manager Plan centers responsibility on the city manager. Is it kept there in practice?

Dayton is a good example that it is. All complaints there are made to the city manager's office. Investigation is made from there. Then his office reports back to the citizens making the complaint. There's none of the "Refer your complaint to that department," and the usual sort of buck passing experienced under the mayor type of municipal organization.

COTTON CROP IS ONLY 62 PERCENT

"WORST EVER KNOWN," SAY OFFICIALS; OKLAHOMA NOT SO BAD; ALL SECTIONS AFFECTED.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Reporting the condition of the cotton crop on May 24th, at 62.4 per cent of normal, the department of agriculture announced that this was the lowest mark in its record of 50 years, and that the recurring statement "worst ever known," was confirmed.

The condition of Oklahoma was given as 70 per cent of normal.

The department of agriculture issued the following statement: "Cotton is reported poor to bad in all cotton states and in almost every county of the cotton belt."

The recurring statement "worst ever known," is confirmed by the reported condition figures of 62.4 per cent, 69.5 per cent in 1917 was the lowest mark in its record. Last year it was 75.6 per cent.

Will Continue Wheat Standard
 WASHINGTON, June 2.—Continuation of present federal wheat standard was decided today by Secretary Meredith in an opinion covering hearings held to inquire into dissatisfaction in the central northwest with existing grades for hard red spring and Durham wheat. Requests for lowering the present standard, the secretary announced, would tend to decrease the return to farmers, while advocates of the change argued the producer would receive more money for his wheat.

Hi-Jackers Hold Up Insurance Man and Break Into Jail

A bunch of negro hijackers got in their work in Ada last night and an insurance man was forcibly separated from about $100 of his money. The scene of the robbery was in the edge of the Darktown section and the hold-up was pulled off as the multitude were getting acquainted with the dog and pony exhibition of Gentry Bros.

According to the story told by the victim of the hijackers, he was rushed by a quartet of negro men and women while in a lonely corner of the city and at the point of an ugly knife was held up and robbed of his roll, amounting to a cool hundred dollars. He at once reported his loss to the city police who began a search for the thieves. As a result of the investigation duly made by the police four negroes have been arrested and are now in jail. The four accused are Lola Chance, "Black Bess" Walker, a woman called "Sue," and Guy R. Simkins. The latter has a discharge from the military service signed by the commanding officer at Camp Funston. The police got about $300 off the parties arrested.

School Patrons Vote for Union Graded District

At the election held at Lula to vote on the formation of a union graded school district the proposition carried by a large majority. The four districts interested are Lula, Hall's Hill and Haskel in Pontotoc county, and Rocky Point in Coal county.

Under the arrangement just perfected a high school will be maintained at Lula for the pupils of the four grades and the grades will continue to be taught in all four of the present districts. The state will give the district $1250.00 to assist in improving the high school building, and the patrons believe that amount will be sufficient at the present time.

J. R. Waldby of Colbert has been employed as superintendent of the high school for the ensuing year. C. W. White, who has been the efficient superintendent of Lula, will not teach next year but will enter the mercantile business at Lula.

Burglar Suspects Are Bound Over To District Court

Three of the negroes charged with burglarizing Shaw's Department Store in Ada about May 8 were bound over to the district court by Justice Brown yesterday. Their bond was fixed at $2,000 each. Failing to make bond they are confined in the county jail.

Geoffrey Wildly, the fourth negro implicated in the charge, was discharged by the court for lack of sufficient evidence to hold him. He was taken back to Chandler, however, and will be tried in the courts of Lincoln county on the charge of receiving stolen property. It is said that the state made out a strong case against the three negroes held for burglary.

LIBERTY THEATER

Always the Best in Photoplays

Once in a while—as when a blue moon's a-shining—we have the privilege of seeing a picture which is both true to life and literary in style, and the purpose of which is better than both. A picture that tells of things as they should be, and in a world where there is much that is distressing merely because it exists, there is little that is more joyous than the realization of such optimistic imagination. That is the type of production MARY PICKFORD presents in her wonderful "Pollyanna."

"Pollyanna" is a story of unusual sweetness and charm. MARY PICKFORD in the title role will teach you to play "the glad game." She will teach you how to bring sunshine into your life and lives of others. The picture is one that everybody should see, because of its picturization of a beautiful character and the lessons taught by the child's philosophy of "Gladness."

Mary Pickford in "Pollyanna"

MARY PICKFORD as "Pollyanna" in her first independently produced production for United Artists Corporation, is the daintiest, dearest little maid that has ever been screened. She takes her place in the hearts of the members of all families. The story has so much humor and pathos that besides being fascinating, it is wholesome, fresh and refreshingly natural.

People who have seen MARY PICKFORD in "Pollyanna" have cried and laughed over her experiences. It is a wonderful story that all members of all families will want to see. And they will never forget it.

Thursday and Friday, June 3rd and 4th.

Dear little "Pollyanna." We will never forget her, when once you have met her—and don't fail to meet—it takes only a couple of hours to know her awfully well. There are so many characters in pictures and so few of these one cares to, or could remember, that this little girl as portrayed by MARY PICKFORD, who lives each day to teach others to live her "Glad Game," takes hold of your heart strings.

"Pollyanna" unconsciously teaches a simple, wholesome lesson, which, if followed, would quickly transform this old world into a joyous place to live in.

Special Music Matinee and Night

Are you blue? Do you feel as though you were forgotten or overlooked in the distribution of life's good things? Then you want to see MARY PICKFORD in "Pollyanna," whose charm is not one of face and dress alone, but principally of personality. She is a sunbeam looking out from "freckled face and dress of red gingham." Her story is certainly a sunshine-maker.

Hints for Owners of Autos

Stretched Casings

After a casing has been long in use stretching sometimes results, so that it takes longer to inflate it. A stretched tire should not be pumped too tight and incidentally it is better to fit such tires with an inner lining, as this will add many miles to their useful life.

Fuel Feed Trouble.

In cars equipped with vacuum feed a leak in the line running into the inlet manifold may interfere with proper operation of the engine at high speed though not at low. The reduced vacuum in the tank caused by the leak results in less fuel being lifted than is ordinarily the case, and with a wide open throttle, let us say, a hard pull, the engine demand will be greater than the supply, which means spitting and possible stopping of the engine.

Packing Gasoline Pumps.

About the only satisfactory material for packing the stuffing box of the gasoline pump is hemp string and soap. Gasoline will dissolve practically any kind of oil used as a lubricant, but it has no effect on soap, so that this material may be used in place of grease as a lubricant or in place of red lead in making screw joints tight.

Renovating Aluminum

It is difficult to restore aluminum to its original finish, especially to get the frosted appearance back after it has been worn. The only reasonably satisfactory method of treading the aluminum is to dip it in a bath of water, slightly acidulated with sulphuric acid, allowing the metal to remain in for some hours. This will cleanse it as well as it can be done.

Small Part Lubrication

The brake mechanism seldom gets the lubrication it really needs. Oil is required on the pins supporting the brake shoes and upon the bearing points of the cams or toggle mechanism which actuates the brakes. These parts usually depend for lubrication on the hand oil can. Beginning at the operating lever, every joint in the brake needs occasional oiling as do the bearings of the compensating shaft.

Vacuum Tank Failure

When the vacuum tank fails on the pressure it is possible to get up enough pressure temporarily to feed the fuel by blowing in the main line. By repeating this process every quarter of a mile enough fuel will be fed to get the car to a garage where repairs can be made.

Ball Check Repair

In engines having pressure feed piling there is generally a regulator with a ball check valve in a housing. If this ball gets stuck or lacks sphericity it is difficult to remove it for replacement. About the best way of getting it out is to take an L-shaped tube or rod of a diameter slightly smaller than the ball. On the end of this rod or tube stick a small lump of grease. Putting the rod through the opening carefully the grease on the end will usually pick up the ball and bring it out.

Free Oil Holes.

At this time of the year thousands of car owners are sending their vehicles to have them repainted and refinished generally. Here is a worth while piece of advice: Have all exposed oil holes stuffed with felt or waste to prevent their being painted over and so closed up. The latter condition will result in failure of the oil to reach the bearing surface that needs it when the car is next run.

Look Out for the Generator

The engine should never be run when the storage battery is out of the car or disconnected unless the generator has first been rendered inoperative. Whenever the generator is being run it is delivering current to the battery, but if the battery is not there to receive the current the generator simply piles up a voltage that shortly damages or burns out the windings, not to mention what it may do to the commutator and brushes. The engine can be run if the field winding of the generator is first disconnected. In some instances, where the generator has thermostatic control, the device may be short circuited across the terminals.

A Useful Block

A very useful bit of equipment in the home garage is a heavy block of cast iron. A good size for this piece of metal is eight inches square by four inches deep. Have your local carpenter make a pattern block in wood and then send it to the nearest foundry and have a casting made. If one face and edge of the block is planed up it will make the device more useful still, as the two surfaces enable either rough or fine work to be handled.

AUTO EVENTS

Races at Dallas

DALLAS, Texas, June 2.—Probably the greatest automobile racing event to be held in the Southwest this season will be staged on the tracks of State Fair of Texas at Dallas on June 4, 5 and 6. For that event there will be entries ranging from the fastest cars on the dirt track to the treacherous little polo cars.

For the racing events the program has been divided into three sections. One will be limited to entries of drivers and cars from Texas. Another is open to drivers and cars from Oklahoma, Texas, Arizona, and New Mexico, and the third is limited to professionals from the dirt tracks of the earth. The professional races will be run on Sunday, June 6. Entries to these races will be limited to professionals who are members of the International Motor Contest association.

W. H. Statton, secretary of the Fair association, declares some of the kings of speed courses with their newest machines will be seen in the grand sweepstakes which will close the event. It is expected that some dirt track records will be shattered. The track is in the pink of condition and some of the greatest speed demons have already entered for the contest.

Mr. Statton said application for the three days' racing program had been applied for and since there are so many events that it is impossible to crowd them on a program of two days he anticipates no trouble in having the board governing such events making a special event to cover the three days' racing on the same track.

In addition to the automobile racing there will be some dare-devil aero-acrobatic stunts, it is announced.

The Automobile Industry

From Forbes Magazine. The automobile industry is now the fifth largest industry in the United States.

Cars registered total 7,523,664, or ten for every one in 1911. The value of the automobiles and trucks now in service is estimated at $3,700,000,000.

Automobiles, it is figured, travel 30,094,656,000 annually.

There are no where automobiles to every railroad freight car.

Automobiles are doing about twice as much passenger traffic as the railroads.

About 2,700,000 or nearly 3 per cent of the total population of the United States make their living from the automobile business.

Current production is at the rate of about 2,973,800 cars yearly. The average price is $745.

The automobile now requires about 409,250,000 crude rubber per annum, and 2, 011,000,000 gallons of gasoline.

State Press Comment

Pawhuska Capital: A dreadful calamity menaces us. The government printing office is so short of paper that it may not be able to supply senators and representatives with copies of speeches for campaign distribution.

Shawnee News: "Angel" Proctor of the Wood campaign fund with his half million and over contribution makes our own Jake Hamon look like a piker as a donor to funds, though his $1,000 to the Harrell fund at that time looked pretty big.

Shawnee News: Someone has arisen to ask if the exposure of the large sums paid out by candidates has any connection with the decision of Chicago hotel-men to quadruple the rates during the Chicago convention.

McAlester News-Capital: Two killed and 20 injured in a Madrid, Spain, bull fight. Why won't they learn the American way? Nothing is ever damaged in an American bull contest, except the contestants' reputations for honesty.

McAlester News-Capital: And Senator Gore thinks that people don't forget so easily after all. The action of the American Legion post at Hobart, in wiring Gore to keep away from that city brings to us the senator's everlasting war record which feel that way ourselves. But now that they are keeping us out of peace, out of spuds and out of sugar, we are controlling our inclinations through fear that somebody may take a notion to keep us out of pork chops and flank steak.

Guthrie Leader: The New Haven railroad has discontinued 51 trains in order to expedite business. If it helps any, all the roads might discontinue all trains and let business go through with a whoop.

Ardmoreite: A member of the staff who was a Latin student, wishes to chronicle the fact that he observes a marked similarity between the careers of Julius Caesar and William Jennings Bryan. Each conducted many campaigns. But there the parallel ends. Julius ultimately became chief executive.

Ardmoreite: The members of the local post of the American Legion, acting in conjunction with the Ardmore chamber of commerce and the several labor unions of the city, are to be congratulated upon the good work they have done thus far, toward securing for Ardmore a managerial form of government. A good business man at the head of the city's affairs will save the taxpayers many thousands of dollars.

Durant Democrat: It's a safe bet that Bryan is brushing up for a great fight at Frisco to knock the stuffing out of any sort of a wet plank in the platform, and it would be worth a trip to Frisco to see him put on some of those all night fights in debate over a great issue. He will need a slick pair of silk pajamas to sleep in and be ready to jump into his liberal trousers and coat should there be a sudden call at midnight to come quick and save the country at convention hall.

Bennington Tribune: "People are often heard to make suggestive remarks concerning young women whom they see on the streets—but never when a husky male relative is present.

Generally there is no thought of injuring the innocent object of these remarks. They are born in thoughtlessness and uttered in a spirit of idleness, but they carry a sting that lasts.

If men would confine their remarks to such as they would approve if made regarding their own sisters, or such as they would make in the presence of the father or brother of the girl, there would be less vicious rumors and innuendoes from lip to lip, and fewer heartaches when this idle gossip reaches the parties concerned.

The Lord made tongues that they might be used to good purpose, but the devil often twists them to his own evil ways.

And it makes a world of difference when it is the other fellow's sister.

Mr. Flagg's Story of the Miraculous Proof given at Carnegie Hall, New York, on March 10th, 1920.

"Miss Case draped her beautiful self against the phonograph. One of her song recordings was put on the instrument, and they Miss Case and the phonograph, sang to gether. Then she stopped, and her other self continued. Then together again. "I looked away and then back again,—and it puzzled me to determine which was at the bat.

The Pianist

"Then the tallest pianist in the civilized world played a charming thing, accompanied by himself via the phonograph,—lifting his fingers away from the keys now and again. I could see him stop playing,—but I couldn't hear him stop.

The Dark Scene

"Then the big stunt of the recital. "Miss Case began singing with the phonograph. At a certain stanza the house was suddenly darkened. The song went on. I was shooting my ears out like periscopes to detect the second when she would stop. I was sure I got it. Then she seemed to be back again. The flood of lights came on,—but no Anna! Only the phonograph singing away. It was quite wonderful,—and the audience applauded and laughed. Two girls behind me said 'Googracious'."

Read what the New York papers say: "The twin-ship between Miss Case's singing, and the reproduction thereof, proved so close as to be often indistinguishable." —New York Globe.

"When the lights were lowered, it was impossible to tell when it was Anna Case, and when it was only her voice that was singing." —New York Evening Sun.

"The voice in the fluffy pink draperies and the voice in the mahogany box seemed one and the same." —New York Evening Mail.

Come in and test its marvelous realism for yourself

An audience of 2800 New Yorkers completely baffled! An Official Laboratory Model did it—actually rivalled Anna Case, one of the world's most brilliant sopranos, in a startling test at Carnegie Hall, on March 10th, 1920.

In our store, you can hear an instrument exactly like this famous Official Laboratory Model. You can test it for yourself—and see what a truly perfect realism it attains. We have equipped ourselves to give Mr. Edison's unique Realism Test.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

The instrument used on March 10th, 1920, in Carnegie Hall, New York, was an exact duplicate of the original Official Laboratory Model on which Mr. Edison spent three million dollars in research work.

We, too, have an exact duplicate of this three million dollar original. We guarantee that it is capable of sustaining precisely the same test made on March 10th, in Carnegie Hall, New York City.

This guarantee will be given in writing,—if you wish.

Our Budget Plan puts this guaranteed Official Laboratory Model within your reach. It's a thrifty way of buying. Ask about it when you come to hear the Realism Test.

WILL PEARL ODELL, SOON TO BE TRIED
GIVE NEW VERSION OF KNEIP MURDER?

James Odell and his wife Pearl (above); Mrs. Kneip, mother of the murdered man, and culvert under which Edward J. Kneip's body was found ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 2.—(Special.)—Pearl Odell, wife of James Odell who was recently convicted here for the part he played in the murder of Edward J. Kneipp, on the night of January 7, last, is to be placed on trial here Wednesday charged with Kneipp's murder. The case is being watched with great interest and is sure to be sensational. Will Mrs. Odell, whose husband is now awaiting execution at Sing Sing, corroborate his story on the witness stand that his wife killed Kneip in his presence and with his consent because Kneip had previously wronged her?

The story of the killing as told by Odell and substantiated by his wife is as follows:

"In 1918 I met Pearl Beaver at the home of a friend in Rochester and though I did not see much of her during the following months in the autumn of 1919 our friendship ripened into love and on the 15th of last December we were married. Before the wedding had taken place Pearl told me about her acquaintance with Kneip and said that he had ruined her while she was under the influence of some doped chocolate candy. After our marriage Pearl was accosted on the street by Kneip and he spoke slightly of her character to her friends. I decided to punish Kneip myself."

"I made up my mind that he should be punished for hounding her the way he did and with this end in view I went to the factory where he was employed on the 7th of January and told the night superintendent that I was a detective and that I had come to arrest Kneip on a serious charge. Kneip was sent for and I led him out to my step-father's automobile where Pearl was sitting. He did not know me and made no protest whatever at being taken. From the factory I drove to my step-father's home, where Pearl and I were then living, and had a conference with the family about what should be done. We decided to take Kneip to police headquarters, as he admitted before witnesses, members of the family, that he had wronged Pearl. However, on the way to the station he used coarse language in front of my wife and, angered, I determined to take him somewhere in the country to 'beat him up.' In Griffith street our car broke down, but I managed to get a chauffeur who lived nearby to drive us to the country. When we left the machine we walked up to the old Genesee Valley canal bed and there I handcuffed Kneip to the tree. Pearl stood by my side and we had a file that I had taken from the machine. "I said, 'Pearl, if this man wronged you do to him as he deserves.'"

Wife Uses File on Helpless Victim. "Pearl then went up to him and said, 'Ed, you started me on the down path—' but she had hardly said the words when he spit on her and said, 'You're nothing but a prostitute anyway!' Then Pearl started to beat him over the head with the file and he fell down on his knees crying, 'Oh, Pearl, Pearl!' I undid the handcuffs and he rolled over into the canal bed. We left the spot and were going to return to the city when I thought he might have a letter on him that would identify us, so I went back and started to search his clothing. Suddenly he came to and struck me squarely in the face, knocking off my glasses. Before I could recover he had gotten to his feet and grappled with me. We went down, his hand clutched in my collar and I lost consciousness for a moment. When I came to he was lying on the ground and Pearl was fixing my collar. I got up and between us we cut his clothing off and dragged the body under the culvert.

"We both walked back to the city and next day took the broken machine home. We were planning to leave town when we were arrested."

Unwritten Law Plea Unavailing. Odell was tried on a charge of murder before Justice Robert F. Thompson in supreme court on April 19th and six days later he was found guilty of murder in the electrocuted at Sing Sing prison. His invocation of the unwritten law proved unavailing and discrepancies in his story were brought out in glaring relief by the prosecutor.

Mrs. Odell will be placed on trial before the same judge that sentenced her husband. Her case has aroused widespread interest among psychologists and criminologists. The chief of the Rochester police department advanced the theory that Mrs. Odell loved the man she killed or helped to kill and that his flouting of her turned her love to hate. The theory has also been advanced that Odell told his wife that unless she killed Kneip he (Odell) would kill her. Whatever the true story is it may never be known. Mrs. Odell has declared time and time again that she will "stick to Jimmy," her husband. Odell is in the death row at Sing Sing, and Kneip is dead. Pearl is the last figure in the case to come before the public eye. Her husband has put the actual blame for the death blow upon her. Will she take the blame, or will a new version of the crime come from her lips on the witness stand that will clear up the many hazy points in the brutal killing in which she played a part?

Let a Want Ad Get it For You.

Answer Your Door Bell

Emerson said that if a man did something better than his neighbor, no matter what it was, the world would make a beaten path to his door.

But the times have changed. Now-a-days the men who make the better things are making paths to your door.

Every time a newspaper comes a host of people are ringing your door - bell. Merchants and manufacturers are waiting on the doorstep to spread their goods at your feet for you to look at.

Don't let the opportunity that advertisements offer you slip by. No matter what you want, clothing, groceries, a fountain pen or a farm, you will find the better ones in the advertising columns.

The advertisements tell you where you can get what you want, when you want it.

THIS PICTURE WAS ONE THAT MADE FOOT STEPS

His footsteps led him from prison to "Other Men's Shoes." He filled them well! He became a servant of God. Children loved him. Women worshiped him. Men admired him. Then came the blackmailers who knew his secret past. How he thwarts their moves—how he batters down all odds—keeps the faith and wins, makes a remarkable drama that x-rays his heart. "Other Men's Shoes" is a marvelous entertainment. American Theatre Thursday and Friday.

THE next best thing to "swatting the fly" is driving him away. The sweeping breeze of an electric fan will keep flies from sleeping infants (or adults) and from exposed food on dining table or in kitchen.

A G-E fan costs but a trifle to operate and insures cooling breezes and protection from flies. We have sizes and types to suit every requirement.

SOCIETY

Invictus
Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the pit from pole to pole,
I thank whatever gods may be
For my unconquerable soul.

In the fell clutch of circumstance
I have not winced nor cried aloud
Under the bludgeonings of chance
My head is bloody but not bowed.

Beyond this place of wrath and tears
Looms out the horror of the shade
And yet the menace of the years
Finds, and shall find, me unafraid.

It matters not how strait the gate,
How charged with punishments the scroll,
I am master of my fate:
I am the captain of my soul.

Children's Day Program

A children's Missionary program will be given at the Nazarene church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. This church is on the corner of 9th and Oak streets.
A splendid program is being arranged and the public is cordially invited to attend. The children of the church have been very splendid workers and are worthy of co-operation from the people of this city.

Y. M. C. A. Social

The Y. M. C. A. of the East Central State Normal gave a lawn social last night on the Normal campus.

The high school band furnished music for the occasion which was appreciated by all present. Games of different kinds were played. The main object of this occasion was to create community friendship among the new Normal students. The affair was a success and it is planned to have these meetings often.

Refreshments of ice cream with cones was served to something like 400 students and their friends.

NEW PARIS FROCK HAS APRON TUNIC

By ELOISE.

Paris has been sending us some very charming afternoon and street frocks. That they were designed for petite mademoiselles who stroll along French boulevards or sip wines in brilliant cafes does not keep them from being very smart and charming on American women who walk down Fifth Avenue, New York, or Main Street, Anywhere. The Parisian still persists in wearing the short skirt and although it has taken America a whole year to stamp it with approval it may be noted that skirts are surely getting shorter over here.

This little imported afternoon or street frock is fashioned of white dotted foulard, which is combined with soft navy taffeta. The foulard makes the dress proper, while the taffeta is used to make the apron tunic, which is the outstanding feature of the model. Novel sleeves and sash ends are of the foulard.

the home of Mrs. Conger's mother, Mrs. E. C. Warren.

Mr and Mrs. T. C. Morris returned to their home in Oklahoma City on the north bound Katy after a few days visit with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wilmoth.

S. I. Tobias and family left yesterday for points in California where they will seek a location. Mr. Tobias states that if he finds a desirable place in that state he will sell his property in this city and remove to California.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Donley and Harry Gunn have returned from a pleasure trip to Connersville. While in that country they spent several days fishing in the Blue River and state that they caught many of the funny tribe.

Miss Margaret Smith, daughter of Willis Smith of this city, who is in the hospital at Henryetta recovering from an operation for appendicitis, is reported this morning as being greatly improved. Miss Smith has many friends in this city who are hoping for her speedy recovery.

the many thrilling experiences he had there, reminds one of those of the Apostle Paul. But in spite of all the obstacles he had there, the Lord marvelously blest his labors and he succeeded in leading thousands of them to Jesus Christ and baptized more than twelve hundred and organized thirty-one churches.

He said that it was not bullets that we needed to send into Mexico, but Bibles. He stated that if the Christian people had done their duty in the years gone by in the way of evangelizing Mexico, that the conditions there would not have been as they are today.

Last evening Dr. Powell spoke on "The Judgment," and took for his text the passage of scripture, "For everyone of us shall stand at the Judgment seat of Christ and give account of the deeds done in the body." He went on to show how God's judgment came upon the ante-diluvians, the ancient cities of Sodom and Gomorrah, Nineveh, and upon the city of Jerusalem. He showed how the Jewish temple was destroyed according to prophecy, and that it had never been rebuilt although its rebuilding was the fond hope of the Jews. He showed how the Jews controlled the money market of the world but they had never made an attempt to rebuild the temple and that they never would because prophecy says that it will never be rebuilt.

All these judgments came upon these peoples because of their refusing to repent toward God, and that the Judgement of God was going to come upon the earth again. He said the thing that is needed today is for the people to repent. He said that a little girl gave a definition of repentance as follows: "Repentance is being sorry enough to quit."

Up to date there have been several conversions and additions although the evangelist has not brought to bear any pressure scarcely to accept Christ, but has been largely dealing with Christians in his messages.

Dr. Powell is in many ways one of the most remarkable preachers that ever came to Ada. He is one of the best traveled men who has ever been in our city, having traveled practically all over the world. Those who are hearing him are delighted with his messages.

The singer, Mr. Reynolds, is singing his way fast into the hearts of the people. He is a master in his line and the music is fine under his direction.

Services each day at ten o'clock and at night at eight.

Cotton Market Report

(As furnished by Ada Cotton Exchange.)

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 2.—Figuring lower than the lowest of records of recent private crop condition reports, today's government crop condition report came like a bolt from the blue, showing the average condition of cotton, as of date May 25, to be the lowest by several points than the previous lowest on record, averaging only 62.4 against 75.6 last year, 82.3 year before last, 69.5 in 1917, and the ten year average of 78.7. A redeeming feature of the bureau report was noted in the revision of last year's estimated acreage of 33,960,000 acres, the revised figures proving that last year's area was 35,133,000 acres, of which 33,560,000 were picked, returning a yield per acre of 161.5 pounds vs. 159.6 year before last, and 159.7 in 1917. While the market bulged sharply before the government figures were announced, the advancing tendency of values was checked by heavy realizing, influenced by the idea that outside general conditions offset the present outlook for the new crop. Outside conditions are not unfavorable in the main, especially as concerns the textile trade, for while business has been hampered to some extent by strikes, high interest rates and the drive against profiteering they are not unfavorable as regards essentials, of which cotton figures prominently, ranking second in order to food, as the masses must have sufficient wearing apparel, in which cotton predominates. The world is confronted by the official statement that the American crop is making the latest start on recovery, by confirmatory advices that labor is scarce, and dear, and that the acreage is about the same as last year's, on which a crop of only about 12 million bales was produced, linters included, whereas the condition of the plant is 13.2 points lower than at this time one year ago. The consumption of American cotton by the world is estimated from 12,500,000 to 13 million bales, and as Europe is gradually getting back to normal, and new mills and additional spindles being constructed in all countries, it is only reasonable to expect that the world would consume more of American cotton next season if the staple is available. Under the circumstances, we favor buying, particularly on important depression. The New Orleans cotton exchange will be closed tomorrow, Confederate memorial day.—H. & B. BEER.

Johnson Wins Votes

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, June 2.—In its first decision affecting the Johnson forces in the convention, the republican national committee by 36 to 13 voted to seat delegates from the tenth Minnesota district who are counted as favorable to the candidacy of the California senator.

A MALICIOUS LIE.

Some loose tongued wag who has no reputation and cares nothing for the good reputation of others — of which there are many in this community — has started a story to the effect that S. M. Shaw, proprietor of Shaw's Department Store, has been arrested by federal authorities and placed under bond on a charge of profiteering. Mr. Shaw has been in the various court districts of this section of the state recently in an attempt to run down the burglars who have been robbing his store, and it may be that this fact is accountable for the story. At any rate it is untrue and the repetition of the story by anyone is a grave injustice to one of Ada's leading merchants and most reputable citizens.

CONDUCTOR TELLS STORY OF WRECK

SAYS BOTH HE AND ENGINEER HAD ORDERS TO STOP THE TRAIN BUT SIGNED RELEASE AT VINITA.

By the Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 2.—In telling the story here today of the head-on collision of the two St. L. & S. F. passenger trains near White Oak early Monday morning, in which five persons were killed and several injured, Frank C. Putnam, conductor on train No. 304, said he had signaled his engineer, Randall, several times to stop, but was unable to halt the train. Engineer Randall was killed. Putnam told a newspaper man that both he and his engineer had received orders to make White Oak by 12:17 a. m., Monday, but that both had signed releases to the order at Vinita. Putnam said that when his signal to the engineer did not stop the train he believed the engineer would stop at Nemo, west of Vinita, in which case, Putnam said, the wreck would not have occurred.

C. H. Rives Returns Home.
C. H. Rives, president of the Oklahoma State bank, has returned from California where he has been for the past two months with his family and recuperating his health. Mr. Rives visited all the principal pleasure resorts on the coast during his absence and made many interesting overland trips by automobile. He is very much rested and improved in health and says he is glad to be back in the harness at the Oklahoma State. Mrs. Rives will remain in California for the summer.

Dr. Powell Preaches On "The Judgment," At the First Baptist

The meeting at the First Baptist church is starting off in a fine way. A large crowd was present Monday night to hear Dr. Powell tell his experience in Mexico. He was for sixteen years a missionary in that country, and to hear him tell of the attacks on his life and
